WEAVER ROTTEN EGGED

He is Disgusted With Southern Democrats

WHO LACK APPRECIATION

Free Speech Suppressed, and Rowdyism and Rotten Eggs Greet Him.

ATLANTA, Ga., September 23.—General Weaver tonight refused to address an audience of 5000 which had gathered at the state capitol to hear him. He declared there was no free speech in the south notwithstanding the fact that the audience had assured him of a respectful hearing.

The general sent a lengthy letter to Chairman Irwin, of the state committee of the People's Party in regard to his treatment in the south. He says he finds a spirit of organized rowdyism at some points visited in Georgia so great as to render it inadvisable to attempt to fill engagements at points not already reached. Personal indignity was suppressed at Waycross only by careful management. At Albany a howling mob refused him a respectful hearing. At Macon the conduct of the mob was simply disgraceful. Rotten eggs were thrown prior to the introduction of the speaker, one of which struck Mrs. Weaver on the head.

CALIFORNIA FRUITS.

Millions of Pounds Carried to the East.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 23.—Figures were obtained today from the traffic officials of the Southern Pacific company regarding the exact amount of the shipment of California green fruit this season.

Two thousand nine hundred and sixty carloads of fruit have been sent east up to last Saturday night, and the officials state that fully 700 more will go in the next thirty days, which will aggregate 38,810,000 pounds of fruit. The trains that have climbed the mountains up to and including last Saturday night, have numbered 372, against 292 for the same period last year.

The railway charges on those shipments is $1.25 per 100 pounds to Chicago, or $1,110,000 on the season's shipment. They derive more than this sum, as the rate beyond Chicago is $1.50 per 100.

The officials state, however, that the business has not been a profitable one owing to the fact that great quantities of ice were hauled and that the peculiar cars used for fruit had to be brought back empty.

FINAL CEREMONIES.

The Veterans Wind Up Encampment Business.

WASHINGTON, September 23.—Commander-in-chief Weissert, of the G.A.R., today issued an approval order assuming the command of the Grand Army, establishing headquarters at Milwaukee, and directing that all official business should be addressed to Charles B. Gray, adjutant general, Milwaukee.

The commander-in-chief and staff called at the White House to pay their respect to the President, but as he was engaged with members of the cabinet they left to come again some other time. The veterans are rapidly leaving the city.

The convention of the Woman's Relief Corps auxiliary opened this morning.

An appropriate finale to the social features of the encampment was a reception by the ladies and citizens committee at the Congregational church tonight. Addresses were made by Hon. J. W. Foster, secretary of state, Representative Boutwell of Maine and Mrs. Kate B. Sherwood, past national president of the Women's Relief Corps and others.

LOST AGAIN.

The Detectives Fail to Overtake Evans and Sontag.

VISALIA, September 23. — Detective Thacker and posse, and Frank Burke with his scouts and Indian trailers, returned to the city today. They said there are too many men in the mountains to do effective work and tracks on the trails mislead the workers.

No trace whatever has been found of Evans and Santaz, and Frank Burke is of the opinion that the bandits have left the hills.

A canvass of officers was held today in this city to determine on future plans.

Burke and party leave again for the hills tomorrow.

Al Witty, shot in the neck by the bandits at Young's house, states that Burke did shoot at Evans on that occasion, and it was that that saved his (Witty's) life.

TARIFF THE ISSUE.

Governor McKinley Accorded a Great Ovation.

PHILADELPHIA, September 23.—One of the greatest gatherings of the people that ever greeted a public man in this city thronged the Academy of Music tonight to listen to Governor McKinley as a guest of the Manufacturers' club, speak upon the issues of the campaign.

McKinley spoke for an hour and a half, mainly upon the tariff, which he designated as the great issue of the campaign. The address was received with great enthusiasm.

Postmaster General Wanamaker also spoke briefly.

Politics in Utah.

WASHINGTON, September 23.—Secretary Noble has received the annual report of the Utah commission for the year ending September 1st last, during which time three sessions were held, one at Chicago and two at Salt Lake City. The commission says a change is apparent in the political situation in Utah, which, if properly fostered and honestly managed, will be productive of good results. Considerable space in the report is devoted to a discussion of the subject of polygamy. The commission insists that polygamy still exists.

Didn't Have Cholera.

LOS ANGELES, September 23. — An Ogilby special to the Evening Express says the train detained there in quarantine last night has been allowed to proceed to Los Angeles. No cases of cholera and all the passengers were permitted to continue their journey.

General Pope Dead.

SANDUSKY, O., September 23.—General John Pope, U.S.A., died tonight.

A BURGLAR CAUGHT.

George Morgan Helped Himself to Another Man's Clothes.

Early yesterday morning a burglar entered the farm house of P. Boucan near the race track and stole $6, a black silk shirt, a pair of socks and a filled watch chain from the room of a ranch hand named Pratte. He also entered room of a man named Nichols and stole a new suit of clothes.

The thief coolly put on the clothes and left his own well worn suit behind.

He went into every room in the house and turned up all the beds in the house searching for plunder.

A description of the stolen property was furnished to Policeman Grady. Last night Grady saw a tough looking young man wearing the clothes and immediately placed him under arrest on a charge of burglary. The prisoner gave the name of of George Morgan and appeared to take his arrest very lightly. He did not deny the crime, and when asked by Mr. Grady why he had not taken a pair of pantaloons that would fit him better he replied that he had taken the best suit of clothes he could find in the house.

THE BARTON INCORPORATED.

Articles Filed with the County Clerk Yesterday.

The Barton Opera House and Improvement company has filed articles of incorporation in the clerk's office. The principal place of business is Fresno and the term is fifty years.

The purposes of the corporation are to own, hold and manage real estate, personal property and all the necessary adjuncts and paraphernalia for carrying on the business of a theater, opera house, plays and operas.

The capital stock is $300,000, divided into 3000 shares of $100 each.

Five directors are appointed for the year, and these directors subscribe for all the stock, the full $300,000. Following are the directors and the amount subscribed by each:

Ella G. Barton, Fresno, $288,500; H. W. Chase, Sanger, $10,000; A.E. Brooke Ridley, San Francisco, $500; E. de Reynier, Sanger, $500; J.O. Rykbee, Fresno, $500.

KILLED IN A CRUSH.

FRIGHTFUL SCENES IN A NEW YORK SYNAGOGUE.

An Alarm of Fire Causes Four Women to Have the Life Crushed Out of Them.

NEW YORK, September 23.—A false alarm of fire caused a panic in a Jewish synagogue crowded with worshipers this morning. In the rush for the stairway four people were crushed and trampled to death and a dozen others seriously injured. Firemen finally succeeded in extracting the people from the blocked stairway.

The panic occurred in a tenement building occupied by three synagogues, one on each floor. In the synagogue of the top floor a candle accidentally ignited a bit of drapery.

Immediately an excited individual yelled "Fire."

Then a rush came for the exit. At the front partition door there was a jam. Then crash! and part of the board wall gave way.

The mass poured, fell and rolled down the steep stairway. Three times as many persons were attending the synagogue on the lower floors. More than 1600 in all. They heard the rush and crash above and heard cries of fire, and immediately likewise made a rush for the street.

At the second floor the two blind and maddened human avalanches met. A furious struggle ensued. Men and women fought with madness and despair, and the weakest went down.

The deadlock was broken again only to be renewed with the same scenes of terror.

Slowly the solid mass, filling the stairway from wall to ceiling, slid down to the ground or down where it brought up against the rush from the rear room synagogue and all came to a dead stop.

The police patrol arrived at this moment and the officers, fighting their way through the crowd, finally broke the jam. Four women lay dead and nine seriously injured. The injured were promptly sent to hospitals.

THE FIREMEN.

They Have Elegant Headquarters on Mariposa Street.

The members of the Fresno volunteer fire department have fitted up comfortable rooms over Monroe's drug store. The rooms are supplied with newspapers and other reading matter, and are a cosy resort for the fire boys both day and night.

The officers of the department are as follows: Chief engineer, E. R. Higgins; first assistant engineer, Truman Hart; second assistant engineer, Charles Juns; foreman of engine No. 1, Frank Beckwith; foreman of No. 1 hose, W. Puleston; foreman of hook & ladder, W. Rogers; foreman of engine No. 2, James W. Smith; foreman of hose No. 2, Al Loper; secretary of the department, H. P. Black.

Zebra's Pretty Sprinter.

Zebra boasts of a world beating sprinter in the person of Miss A. C. Marks, says the Madera Mercury. Last week she wagered $5 with W. Williams, and in a distance of seventy-five yards beat him five feet. The school teacher in the district promised her a handsome pair of gold earrings and breast pin if she would beat the ex-stage driver, Lucey. She accepted the proposition and filled her opponent's eyes full of dust. It is needless to say she received the present.

A Cannery Nuisance.

Health Officer Maupin yesterday served a written notice upon the Fresno Canning company to abate a nuisance created by the company consisting of 25 or 30 carloads of refuse fruit and other garbage dumped on a low piece of ground south of the cannery.

TRAIN ROBBERS FOILED

A Dynamite Bomb Placed on the Track

INJURES A FREIGHT TRAIN

The Robbers Intended It for the Overland—Where Were Evans and Sontag?

TRACY, September 23.—At 7 o'clock this evening a special freight train on the Newman branch of the Southern Pacific, when a mile and a half from Tracy, ran over a dynamite bomb. The explosion broke the headlight off the engine and the glass in the cab.

It is supposed the bomb was intended for the overland passenger train.

A young man named Langdon, who lives near by, says he saw a man sitting on the track at the place where the explosion occurred at 5 o'clock.

Detectives are investigating.

OPEN TO DISCUSSION.

The Wily Chinese Try a New Ruse at Evasion.

WASHINGTON, September 23.—A short time ago the collector of customs at Port Townsend, Wash., wrote the treasury department for instructions in the case of one Ching Yen, a Chinese who claimed to be a British subject and applied for admission into the United States on such, exhibiting a certificate of naturalization issued at Vancouver.

The collector expressed the opinion that this is a test case, and if the man was allowed to enter the authorities on the other side of the line could begin at once to make British citizens of Chinese to evade our restriction law.

Assistant Secretary Spaulding, in reply, informs the collector that the naturalization of a Chinese person by an adjacent country will not qualify such person to enter the United States, and instructed him to decline to consider the papers mentioned as in any manner changing the status of such person so far as admission into the United States is concerned.

An official of the treasury department said this afternoon that it was a debatable question if this action of the department in refusing to recognize the British naturalization of Chinese persons is not in conflict with the treaty with Great Britain, whereby its subjects are allowed to enter and leave the United States at any time.

In Luck to Escape.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 23.—The sealing schooner Kate and Ann, Captain Lution, reached here today with only sixty skins. Some two months ago the schooner touched at Yokohama, where she discharged 1000 skins that were shipped to this port. After leaving Yokohama the vessel sailed for the sealing grounds around Alton island, near northwestern Alaska, and had captured upwards of 300 skins. Here the Russian man-of-war Zoblaka seized the schooner, taking away not only all the skins but most of her sealing gear and hunting guns. Not content with this the Russians took nearly all the provisions aboard, leaving enough only to get the crew home before starving.

MR. WHITE ON THE TARIFF.

Supervisor T. C. White of this city has submitted to an interview on the tariff question by the Examiner, in the course of which some rather surprising statements appear. Mr. White is a raisin grower as well as a supervisor, and says he has "devoted days and nights to the study of the tariff problem." Hence, as a raisin grower and a tireless student of this great economic question, his opinions are entitled to consideration. Concerning the tariff on raisins, Mr. White says:

The tax on raisins has served its day—if it ever had any—and should slide down the scale, as should the tax on other materials and products. We're levying too much money to pay the expenses of government. The result is the surplus and the taking of the money from the people who can least afford to spend it—from the common people, the great army of consumers.

In this we find some things almost incomprehensible—coming from a raisin grower and a student of the tariff. Mr. White, as a night-and-day student of the tariff, must be informed o the fact that the present tariff does not provide more revenue than is necessary to pay the expenses of the government, but that to the contrary the present Democratic congress—acting on a basis of the strictest possible economy—was seriously alarmed at one time because of the possibility of a deficit. As a student of the tariff who utilizes the midnight oil as well as the light of day, Mr. White must also know that the amount of duty on foreign imports was very largely reduced by the McKinley act, in fact that considerably less revenue is collected under it than was contemplated by the Mills bill. This being the case, Mr. White's objection to the volume of revenue derived from the tariff is very hard to understand. Possibly Mr. White himself understands why he objects to the volume of a revenue that is barely sufficient to meet the requirements of the government as administered by an economical Democratic congress, but he will apparently have to burn some more midnight oil before he is prepared to make the public understand his views.

Mr. White, as a matter of course, has given special attention to raisins in his sleepless researches into the intricacies of the vexed tariff question, and says that the tariff on foreign raisins should slide down the scale with other things in the interest of the great army of consumers. This means, if it means anything at all, that Mr. White believes that the tariff on foreign raisins should be lowered in order that they may be put into this market at a lower price and thus cheapen both foreign and domestic raisins to the consumer. We should like to ask Mr. White, as a raisin grower, if he considers the present price of California raisins too high, and if he thinks the California growers are in a position to come to the assistance of the consumers at this time to the extent of a reduction of one or two cents per pound on their product? We should also be pleased if Mr. White would candidly and frankly inform the public, which he has now but partially enlightened, as to whether he believes the raisin growers of California are prepared to compete with the Spanish growers with but a low tariff to offset the difference in the cost of labor and cost of transportation to the principal markets of this country. Mr. White is, as a diligent student of the tariff, aware, of course, that vineyard labor in Spain is about one-fourth the rate paid here, and that ocean transportation from Spain to New York is less than one-half the overland rate from this state. These, we think, are differences in favor of the Spanish grower which are entitled to more consideration than is to be found in a tariff scaled down to an equality with industries which require less protection. That is the theory of protection, and under it a great industry has been built up here, until its development has brought about a competition that has lowered the price of raisins to the consumers of this country to almost one-half the price they were compelled to pay when the Spanish producer enjoyed a monopoly of our market under a lower tariff.

In answer to the question of the reporter as to why the price of raisins had decreased since the adoption of the McKinley bill, Mr. White made this answer:

"Blamed if I know. That fact is a stumper. A lot of explanations have been offered, but I don't take any stock in any of them. To my mind it proves that somehow the McKinley bill is not in practice what it is in theory, and that it does not perform what its projectors calculated."

Mr. White must have been short on midnight oil since the passage of the McKinley bill, for on no other ground than a lack of investigation can such an answer be reconciled to sincerity, and, as a matter of course, Mr. White would not intentionally misrepresent this matter for mere partisan purposes. This matter of falling prices on raisins is not looked upon as a mystery by most people who are engaged in the business. The fact that the home product was nearly doubled in a period of two years, and that this immense increase was dumped indiscriminately into two or three markets at a time when there was a wholly unprecedented fruit crop of all kinds throughout the United States, is in itself a satisfactory explanation to a majority if not all the raisin growers of this state. The break in prices was also helped along by the notoriously inferior quality of considerable portions of the pack, and by the advantage taken of the situation by speculators and commission dealers.

When Mr. White says in this connection that to his mind it proves that the McKinley bill "is not in practice what it is in theory" does he mean to be understood that it does not serve to keep up the price of raisins, and hence that the tariff ought to come down on this article in order to cheapen it to the consumer? If not, what does he mean?

Mr. White is evidently in favor of talking the tariff off of raisins on the same principle that Mr. Barnum kept an elephant on his farm. The elephant ate a vast quantity and did very little plowing, but it was a magnificent advertisement for Mr. Barnum's circus. Mr. White is in politics considerably more than he is in the business of growing raisins.

FREE TRADERS MISFORTUNES

This is a bad year for the Democratic party and the hearts of the members of the British Cobden club may well be wrung with anguish as they contemplate the successive disasters that have befallen their American free trade allies, says the New York Press. In the first place the general industrial prosperity of the country was a great blow to the calamity party. Short crops and bad business always work for Democratic success. Then came the report of the United States senate committee, signed by the ablest Democrat in congress, John G. Carlisle, showing by incontrovertible proof that the wages of workingmen had increased while the prices of manufactured products had diminished under the McKinley law.

Then followed in quick succession the official reports of Labor Commissioner Peck and Bank Superintendent Preston, both Democrats. The free traders had insisted, with all the noise and pertinacity of howling dervishes, that the McKinley tariff was oppressing industry and lessening the reward of labor. Commissioner Peck's report proved that in one year under this tariff there had been in the single state of New York an increase of industrial production amounting to $31,000,000, an increase in the total amount of wages paid to factory employes of more than $6,000,000, and an average individual increase of wages amounting to $23.11 for 285,000 workers in sixty-eight manufacturing industries. Superintendent Preston demonstrated that the savings banks deposits in New York state had increased from $615,689,706 on January 1, 1889, to $710,112,873.48 on July 1, 1892, while the depositors had increased in number from 1,302,852 to 1,356,133.

These heavy blows sent the Democracy into a panic. They brought about a speedy and unconditional surrender on the part of Mr. Cleveland and the Mugwumps to the bosses and "organization" of Tammany Hall. But there was still more misfortune in store for the luckless Democracy. George Ticknor Curtis, the most eminent Democratic authority on constitutional law, has publicly announced that he will not sanction, even by silence, the outrageous dogma that protection to American industry is unconstitutional. More than this, Mr. Curtis, whose name commands respect and whose opinion carry weight among citizens of all parties in every state in the union, has declared not only that protection is constitutional, but that it is in the highest degree beneficial to the nation at large. This veteran Democrat, whose constitutional opinions have been quoted as authority by the Democratic press for so many years, states his position with all the clearness and force that the English language can give to it. He says:

In common with many other Democrats, I cannot follow the leaders of the party in denouncing Republican protection as a fraud upon the labor of the great majority of the American people for the benefit of a few; nor can I subscribe to the doctrine that a protective tariff is unconstitutional. I have no pecuniary interest in manufactures, but I know what protection has done and is doing for this country. If it operates for the benefit of the few, I am not one of that few; I am one of the many; one of the great majority benefited by it, including those who denounce it for the sake of obtaining political power. If the leaders of a political party assembled in national convention for the purpose of nominating candidates for the presidency and vice presidency, choose to stultify themselves by falsifying history, they cannot expect to be followed by others who have any habits of independent thought and action.

This last disaster is one of the worst that has yet befallen the Democratic politicians. The facts of the labor market and of the country's industrial development are all against them; and now they are openly denounced for their dishonesty and lack of patriotism by one of the most prominent and most highly esteemed Democrats in the United States. Mr. Cleveland and his follows may well wonder what is coming next.

"Richard A. Proctor, the English astronomer, once wrote a description of the dead moon which has been called an epic poem, so vividly and so forcibly does he bring the solitude and the ruin of that orb before the attention of the reader."—Last Night's Expositor.

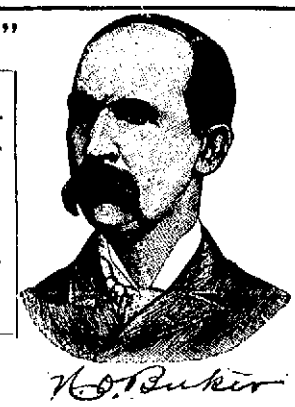

The solitude and ruin of the moon, no matter how eloquently and graphically described, is as nothing to the solitude and ruin of the Fresno county Democratic courthouse ring when the sun sets on next election day.

Mr. Walton, the gentleman who has the street sweeping contract, explains that he is compelled to do the sweeping during the early part of the night because the electric lights are put out at 1 o'clock, and it is impossible to do the sweeping in the dark. This is another argument in favor of keeping the lights burning all night.

MORE ROBBERY

Two Other Officers Were Favored

WITH LARGE SALARIES

The Share of the District Attorney.

Additional Burdens Placed on Taxpayers by the County Government Act.

The figures quoted in yesterday's issue of THE REPUBLICAN showing how the taxpayers of Fresno county have been and are being plundered by the operation of the county government act in order that three offices embraced in the court house ring might be made profitable and comfortable for those occupying them created a good deal of talk throughout the city and county yesterday.

The figures themselves are so eloquent that they hardly call for any comment. In fact, they are so logical and convincing that even the Expositor, which has undertaken since the demise of the Review to apologize for the political mistakes and misdeeds of the Democratic bosses, does not attempt to refute them or explain them away.

This is what it has to say about the matter:

"Instead of telling who contributed to the alleged corruption fund raised to secure the passage of the county government act, and what disposition we made of the money, THE REPUBLICAN expatiates on the amount of salary received by the different officers of this county in comparison of other counties. Will the salaries be any less if Republicans should be elected to fill the offices instead of Democrats? If the Republicans get in will they exert themselves to have their salaries reduced to the old figure? Senator Gouchur's responsibility for that portion of the county government act relating to Fresno county is undisputed, but Senator Goucher is not a candidate for re-election. Mr. Mordecai, who opposed the bill at all stages of its passage, is a candidate for re-election, and, according to THE REPUBLICAN'S logic, ought to be re-elected on this issue alone. When the bill passed the senate twenty Republicans and five Democrats were recorded as voting for it. This seems to fix the question of party responsibility conclusively, as the committee which framed the measure was a Republican body."

The questions asked by the Expositor as to THE REPUBLICAN'S attitude towards the county government act when the Republicans take possession of the county offices next year will be answered ex-cathedra in the editorial columns of this paper, where the answer will be vested with authority.

THE REPUBLICAN is in favor of and advocates the amending of the county government act because it believes that the iniquitous burden imposed by jobbery upon the taxpayers of this county should be removed, whether the Republicans fill the offices or not.

It is a question of principle, not of politics; of right and justice, and not of expediency. THE REPUBLICAN would denounce this outrage in just the same way if the county government act had been engineered through the legislature by a Republican state senator and lobbied by a Republican deputy district attorney with a sack made by Republican Holdfasts, because this paper believes that the welfare of the community is paramount to the success or defeat of any party or set of individuals or individual.

"Senator Goucher's responsibility for that portion of the county government act relating to Fresno county is undisputed, but Senator Goucher is not a candidate for re-election," says the Expositor. This appears to be a very silly plea in mitigation of punishment after having pleaded guilty. There is to be no election for senator in this district this year and candidates for that office do not usually announce themselves two years in advance.

Senator Goucher, while he may not be a candidate for any office himself, is recognized by the office-holding element of the Democratic party in this county as the Maker and Preserver of candidates and officeholders. On his acknowledged ability as a political tactician that element leans for aid and support. It is to his hand that the office-holding family look to steer their political destinies through the breakers of outraged public opinion, but all the political sagacity and statecraft of a Goucher can avail them nothing in the face of the figures and in the face of the facts that cannot be successfully garbled or explained away.

Two other Fresno county offices have been favored by the county government act, making a Triangle of favorites. It seems that the Democratic jobbers of this city and county run in triangles. They are far from being on the square.

These offices are the district attorneyship and the recordership, and thereby hangs a most wierd and gruesome tale, which is told in tones louder than whispers and which has appeared in print more than once.

The new law made the county recorder independent of the board of supervisors, increased the pay of his chief deputy $400 per year and the pay of his copyists from 5½ cents to 6 cents per folio. No fault can be found with the last item if the copyists get the benefit of the increase, which no doubt they do since the happening of a certain very disagreeable supervisorial investigation a little more than a year ago.

The superior judges were also favored in a petty way to the extent of $1200 per year, the law specifying that "each of the superior judges shall receive from the county the sum of $50 per month for stamps, stationery and such clerical assistance as he may require at chambers to enable him to properly perform the duties of his office."

Emil F. Bernhard at the time the county government bill was under consideration was stenographer for the district attorney at a salary of $1500 a year. He was absent in Sacramento for nearly two months for which time his salary was paid him and it was currently reported that he was engaged in lobbying for the Fresno end of the county government act bill, and when the bill became a law it was found that the salary of the office held by Mr. Bernhard had been increased from $1500 to $1800 per annum, and the total salary roll of the district attorney's office was increased from $3000 to $3300 per year, all of which must come out of the pockets of the farmers, business men and laborers of this county whether it is a good year for raising or not.

Under the old law the county recorder was allowed $3000 per year and the pay of his deputies was limited to $100 per month and that of the copyists to 5½ cents per folio, and he was allowed only such deputies as the supervisors saw fit to give. The new law provides the following:

"The recorder may appoint a chief deputy at a salary of $125 per month and a comparing deputy at a salary of $100 per month and an indexing deputy at a salary of $100 per month; he may also appoint such copyists as are necessary to properly perform the duties of his office at a compensation not to exceed 6 cents per folio."

When the provisions of this outrageous bill became generally known in this county a storm of popular indignation arose. District Attorney Tupper knew enough to get in when it rained and on May 25, 1891, he sent a communication to the supervisors as follows:

"Gentlemen—Under subdivision 21 of section 170 of the county government act as passed by the last legislature and approved March 31, 1891, I have appointed in the place and stead of the assistant district attorney and deputy district attorney and official stenographer, formerly authorized by law and this board, three assistants at the respective salaries of $200, $150 and $125 per month.

"The business of my office in this county requires the assistance of three competent attorneys at law to properly transact the same, and in my judgment the salaries allowed are reasonable and just, and the same meets my approval. My official salary was fixed two years ago, and the last legislature could not increase or diminish the same by any legislation. Under the provisions of section 36 of the county government act since its first adoption in 1855 and as passed by the last legislature the supervisors of the several counties of the state can authorize the district attorney to appoint assistants at a salary of $125 per month.

"After many personal interviews with citizens of this county and after consultation with my assistants and upon due consideration of the matter so far as the question of economy alone in public service is concerned, I am determined to request that the board of supervisors of Fresno county make an order under section 36 of the county government act authorizing me to appoint three assistants at a salary of $125 each per month on the ground that such assistants are necessary for the proper discharge of the duties of my office in all the courts and official matters throughout this county.

"If this board will make such order to take effect July 1, 1891, I will appoint my assistants under the same and set aside and vacate the appointments heretofore made under the act of the late legislature, the constitutionality of which I desire to have fully tested."

The title of the act is "An act to establish a uniform system of county and township governments." It is held by good lawyers that a bill cannot be uniform according to the state constitution, when salaries of officers are made high or low simply at the behest of a senator or assemblyman from any particular county.

The act is not uniform in another instance, wherein it makes the terms of officers in all counties except four in the state two years, whereas in those four counties, one of which is Fresno, the terms of office are made four years.

The bill passed the senate only five days before the legislature adjourned, and the assembly was not given time in which to consider the senate bill. Several amendments were offered in the assembly, but there were withdrawn, largely, it is said, at the instance of Senator Goucher and of the gentleman representing the district attorney's office of this county, they having insisted that any amendment at this stage of the proceedings would certainly kill the measure.

It was openly charged and has never been denied that money was used to carry out this iniquity and that County Recorder Bell secured the signature of his deputies to a note for $375, which note was given to Emil F. Bernhard, a deputy of the district attorney, for the purpose of securing for his office the increased emoluments allowed by the new county government law.

Inasmuch as the emoluments of the sheriff's office were increased by the new law in a much greater degree, the sheriff's assessment, if there was one, must have amounted to quite a respectable figure. The district attorney's assessment, if there was one, was, in all probability, in the nature of the repayment of obligations incurred by reasons of favors bestowed upon persons who were the most potent at Sacramento in carrying through the Fresno end of the program.

But that was only a side issue whether money was used or not. The law is an imposition and an unnecessary burden on the taxpayers, and the responsible parties are those who attended to the Fresno county portion of the act.

BROWN'S EXAMINATION.

Held to Answer Before the Superior Court.

The examination of Walter Brown, colored, charged with a criminal assault upon Stella Brown, also colored and aged 13 years, was held before Justice Crichton yesterday. Assistant District Attorney H. G. Tupper appeared for the prosecution and S. R. Hart for the defense.

Only two witnesses were put upon the stand by the prosecution. Mrs. Clara Gage, mother of the girl, testified that Brown had been running after her daughter for some time. She saw him in the back yard with Stella one evening and told him not to come there any more. He consigned her to sheol in a very gruff way and when she accused him of trying to ruin her daughter, he answered that she had been ruined long ago. Stella left her home with Brown on September 3d and went to May Hatch's, a house of questionable character across the track.

Stella was put on the stand and stated what had happened at the Hatch house. She said Brown made improper advances which she repelled. He then used force and accomplished her ruin. Brown is a married man.

Justice Crichton held Brown to answer in the superior court and fixed his bail at $500. Being unable to furnish this he was remanded.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS

They Welcome Their Grand Chancellor.

A BANQUET AT THE ST. CLOUD

Two Candidates Take the Second Degree—The Secret Work Exemplified.

Yesterday was a red letter day for the Knights of Pythias of this city, the occasion being the visit of the grand chancellor of the order, Walter C. Graves of San Francisco. The grand chancellor arrived on the evening train and was met by a committee, who escorted him to the Grand Central hotel.

There he was introduced to a number of Sir Knights who had come to pay their respects and who were very favorably impressed with the geniality and personality of the new grand chancellor. He is here on his regular annual visit to inspect the lodges and offer such suggestions as may be necessary.

In the evening there was a joint session of Vineland and Fresno Lodges, K. of P., at the new castle hall in the Spinney building on I street. The second degree was conferred upon two candidates, J. M. McClure and John Daly, Grand Chancellor Graves presiding.

After the session the Knights adjourned to the banquet hall on the ground floor of the building, where a sumptuous supper was served by Mrs. Crawford. The supper was an excellent one, even good enough for a Pythian knight, and the inviting viands were dispatched with gusto. The best vintages of California made the banquet all the more appetizing. There were two long tables and fully eighty knights partook of the feast.

Justice Dante R. Prince acted as toastmaster and acquitted himself very creditably. He announced the arrival of the hour when a feast of reason and a flow of the soul and howl was in order, and called upon Supreme Representative Stanton L. Carter to answer to the toast of "The Supreme Lodge of the World."

Sir Knight Carter spoke of the grand lodge in general, and referred particularly to the recent session in Kansas City, to which he was a delegate. He gave much interesting information concerning the session, and mentioned with pleasure the increase in the membership of the order.

George E. Church responded eloquently to the toast of "Our Grand Chancellor." Being a past grand chancellor, he knew how to do the subject full justice. He was followed by D. M. Senton, who responded felicitously to the toast "Fresno Lodge," and Judge M. K. Harris did full justice to the toast "Vineland Lodge."

H. H. Mills responded to the toast "The Press," and made a very pleasant speech. He said that the press had always been friendly to fraternal organizations and had been an important factor in their upbuilding.

He was followed by H. C. Tupper who spoke of "Our Absent Members" in appropriate terms. "The Grand Jurisdiction of California" was responded to by Grand Chancellor Graves, whose remarks received the closest attention. The speakers were frequently applauded.

At the conclusion of the banquet the session was reconvened, and Grand Chancellor Graves exemplified the secret work of the order, as amended by the recent session of the superior lodges of the exalted organization. The session was a most interesting one and it was quite late when it was concluded.

The occasion proved a very pleasant one indeed and the grand chancellor will take with him pleasant memories of the cordial welcome he received from his Fresno brethren. He made many friends during his brief visit.

"The Star Spangled Banner."

EDITOR REPUBLICAN,—The excuse offered by the manager of the Park band for the omission of "The Star Spangled Banner" is a very poor one. The person or persons who did not wish to hear that soul-stirring air could have remained at home or have put wadding in their too sentative ears; and the band could have dispensed with their new uniforms and played once again for the Old Flag.

SUBJECT TO MILITARY DUTY.

List of Tulare Fighters—Evans Among Them.

County Clerk John G. Knox has forwarded to General Miller of Fresno, commander of the Third brigade, N.G.C., a list of persons subject to military duty as compiled by the county assessor. There are 1500 names on the list, and there should be 2500 persons between the ages of 18 and 45 subject to military duty. The list is poorly compiled in that it gives the names of persons over 45, and others who are not exempt are left off entirely. Mr. Knox wrote opposite the name of Chris Evans: "A good fighter: draft him."—Delta.

WILL NOT LEAVE LOUISIANA.

What President Conrad Has to Say About the Big Lottery.

NEW ORLEANS, August 26.—President Paul Conrad, of the Louisiana Lottery company, was interviewed today about the dispatch regarding the company's attempt to purchase a location in the Sandwich Islands. He said: "It is a 'fake' sensation pure and simple, or a malicious conception, designed, perhaps, to prejudice the company in the minds of the people of the United States by creating the impression that our business is to be removed from the legal restrictions and accountability it is now under by virtue of the laws of Louisiana. Were the Louisiana State Lottery company to become a Hawaiian instead of a Louisiana concern, of course it would be practically impossible to enforce claims against it; whereas, being a duly chartered corporation of this state, it is amenable to the laws. Obligations can be enforced through the courts against it the same as against any lawful and responsible company."

"But what are the company's plans for the future? Might not their negotiations be carried on without your knowledge?"

"Scarcely such vast sums as are talked of are carried in one's vest pocket nor expended by one member of a concern without consulting his associates. The owners of the Louisiana Lottery are now scattered over the globe seeking peace or pleasure, according to their condition or taste. Mr. Morris, with friends, has been for weeks cruising about on his yacht, and I doubt if anyone has communicated with him on business of any description. Certainly he is not giving himself any concern about lottery business, and I repeat there is simply nothing in this alleged San Francisco story except idle gossip, so far as I know, and I think I know all the facts. The Louisiana Lottery company will live out its allotted time as fixed by its vested rights, say a couple of years longer, doing its business here as it always has, and abiding by the popular decision in the recent contest."—New York Times, Aug. 27th.

AT MUSICK'S MILL.

Colonel Smutz Enjoying Life in the Mountains.

HOW HE ESCAPED THE SHEEP

What He Saw and Learned Among the Big Timber—Registration Wanted.

MUSICK'S MILL, September 21.—THE REPUBLICAN expedition is more valuable now, as the stock has been watered and is going right up. After a day's rest and a good night's sleep the writer is pushing and the pony is pulling ahead.

I most always meet with surprises in the places I least expect them. Saturday evening Mr. Kenyon showed me to the room I was to occupy in his capacious hotel, and extensive it is, for it covers more ground than the Hughes hotel, and has no stairs to climb and no elevator, as you are expected to elevate yourself up the gentle slope to your room by degrees. The room is a small cabin made of rough boards, but upon opening the rough door the surprise comes, for behold a little parlor all carpeted (not Brussels), nicely papered and containing bright furniture. The bed made me feel tired.

Mrs. Kenyon is a landlady worthy of a city hotel. Kenyon's is the key to the mountains, as all roads lead there and it is the most favorable place for a hotel.

I met R. W. Riggs here. He has cards tacked upon the trees announcing that he would be on Pine Ridge this season with his "mashean," and will photograph the whole country.

I meet one "sheepman" with 2100 other sheep, and another with 3000, all on the down trip, eating everything green in reach. I escaped.

Boyd Smith, bookkeeper at Musick's mill, made a flying trip to Fresno Tuesday to have a troublesome tooth extracted.

Mrs. J. J. Musick, while at the dam site last week, had her right foot injured by a large piece of timber falling upon it. She is improving and will be able to be out in a few days.

I was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Musick Sunday and Monday, and right royal entertainers they are.

Musick's mill cut 2,200,000 feet of lumber up to last Saturday night. The major part of it was for the flume.

The time up here is half an hour ahead of Fresno time. I do not know why, unless they get hungry earlier (I do) than at Fresno, or because they are closer to the sun.

A. J. Devine, one of the teamsters at the above mill last week hauled one of the largest loads of logs ever drawn to that mill. It scaled 5500 feet and lacked fifty feet of raising the record by one foot. He was feeling very well, too, when I got the information.

It is not an old saw up here that timber cutters would make good stump speakers if they do prepare the stump, and to see the timber one has to go into the back woods, for their cards cover it on all the main roads.

An itinerant barber could do well here during the summer months.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Musick will make a trip to Fresno on Friday and return Monday.

Many people in the foothills need to be posted in regard to the quail law, as they have been shooting quail during this month. And also some dishonest Fresno sports who have been there need to be prosecuted for doing the same.

The voters up here are very much exercised over the registration matter. Many of them asked me in a tearful treble to look after the matter when I came down and to send up a deputy with a scaling stick to re-register them. Many of them will be here until election and will not have time to attend to it. The clerks who were up here missed quite a number. The proper way to work the matter up here would be for the clerk to send word ahead and make dates at the different mills so that voters could govern themselves accordingly. Many men were out in the timber when the clerks were here, which accounts for their having missed them.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

Political Effects of McWhirter's Murder.

NECESSITY OF RE-REGISTRATION

Candidate Van Meter Asked Not to Appoint H. H. Welsh, in Case of His Election.

It has been stated by the evening paper that THE REPUBLICAN was trying to make political capital of the McWhirter murder. This is very much like accusing one of making a thing what it already is. There is not a newspaper in the county that labored more diligently to impress upon the people that McWhirter's death was the result of political animosities than the Expositor, and its attitude was a surprise to those accustomed to its conservatism in important questions. The evidence was in favor of the Expositor's position, and the majority of the people accepted its conclusions. The verdict of the coroner's jury fortified them in their opinion. Now, is it not as natural as day following night that a murder which was the result of political animosities should prove political capital to that party not responsible for it. What is more logical and inevitable?

The results of the taking off of L. B. McWhirter will be more apparent after the November election. It did not and does not require THE REPUBLICAN's influence to make them surer or more far reaching. It is strange politics that takes advantage of such terrible incidents. The law of retribution may be safely left to work out its revenges. What is more logical than that McWhirter's friends and followers—and they are not so few as many profess to believe—should use their influence to defeat those whom the Expositor accuses of being responsible for his death? Is it strange that the numerous respectable Democrats whose acquaintance with McWhirter was slight, but who believe in the free expression of opinion, should look with horror upon those whom the Expositor charges with having assassinated him for having the courage to give voice to his convictions?

A plain indication of how many Democrats feel about the matter came to my notice a few days ago. The manner in which the coroner's inquest was conducted gave many persons the impression that an attempt was being made to establish the suicide theory. This caused considerable dissatisfaction with Assistant District Attorney Welsh, and the Expositor was as loud in its condemnation of his course as any one. Therefore, when it was rumored that E. S. Van Meter, the Democratic candidate for district attorney, intended in case of his election to appoint Welsh his assistant, many Democrats were seriously dissatisfied and stated that if Van Meter really had such an intention they would vote for Church. At the request of some of them G. P. Cummings of Cummings & Higgins paid Mr. Van Meter a visit last Saturday and informed the candidate of the feeling of his friends concerning his alleged intention of appointing Welsh his assistant. Mr. Cummings stated further that if Mr. Van Meter would give a written pledge that he would not appoint Welsh in the event of his election everything would be well. Van Meter refused to comply with this demand, saying he had been told by some persons that they would vote against him if he appointed H. C. Tupper, while others said they would not support him if he appointed young Everts, and others still had asked him not to appoint Judge Graham. If he pledged himself not to appoint any lawyer who was objectionable to some person or persons he would have to get his assistants from another county. So, Mr. Cummings' quest proved unsuccessful, Mr. Van Meter refusing to pledge himself.

* * *

All this is merely to show that the assassination of McWhirter is having the effect every clear thinking man supposed it would have. It will contribute to the defeat of the bosses, the rings and those who have been trying to force the people to accept the suicide theory of his death. There is a vague rumor, by the way, that, realizing the damage that must result from the belief that McWhirter was assassinated and the damage that has already been done, a determined attempt will be made to bring about a reaction. What means are to be employed to accomplish this can only be imagined.

* * *

A good deal of stress is being laid upon the fact by the defenders of the measure that a Republican legislature passed the iniquitous county government bill of 1891, but they fail to mention the amendments to the bill passed by the Democratic, or Buckley legislature of 1889. The act after its amendment in 1889 was as incongruous and abominable as is the new one, and bears as plainly as the latter the stamp of boodle. I have room for only a single illustration, but any person having time can find similar peculiarities throughout the entire bill. Fresno was in the twenty-sixth class under the amended act of 1889, which required a population of not less than 9400 and not more than 9485. The salaries then paid were:

County clerk $3000, sheriff $7000, recorder $3000, auditor $2000, treasurer $2500, tax collector $3000, assessor $4000, district attorney $3600.

Compare with these the salaries allowed by the same bill in counties of the eighth class, with a population of between 20,000 and 21,000: County clerk $3000, sheriff $6000, recorder $3200, auditor $600, treasurer $2500, tax collector $650, assessor $5500, district attorney $2500.

A comparison between the salaries paid in this county under the new act and the salaries paid in counties of the fifth class (population 30,000-34,000) under the amended act of 1889 will also be in favor of this county. In fact, the Fresno county officials have been very well taken care of all along. No wonder they have such a fast hold on their nursery.

* * *

The voters are paying too little attention to the question of the legality of the registrations made before the time authorized by the political code. Section 1094 of that code requires registration to begin 100 days prior to a general election, which time of beginning this year was July 30. It is asserted by some lawyers that this decision is merely directory and not peremptory, while others hold the contrary view. The law is plain, however, and to be on the safe side every man who registered before July 30 should re-register. These premature registrations could be made a ground of contest. As the registration closes fifteen days before the election there is little time left. Between five and six thousand voters have registered too early.

JUNIPER.

LEMONS.

They Thrive and Are Profitable in Fresno County.

Colonel C. J. Berry has written the following letter to the Tulare County Times, says the Reedley Exponent. What he here says of Tulare county as a lemon producing locality can also be truthfully claimed for the foothill country tributary to Reedley. This part of Fresno county is in the same thermal belt that passes through Tulare county.

Lemons of great size and beauty and entirely free from all disease are produced on young trees in and near Reedley.

Messrs. Williams Brothers, three miles northwest of Reedley, planted two trees in 1887 and 1890; one of the trees yielded 600 lemons, equal to two boxes, and the other yielded 960 lemons, equal to more than three boxes. He sold them at 35 cents a dozen and received $28 revenue from the best tree.

A. J. Williams has two lemon trees, six miles northeast of Reedley, planted in 1889, which yielded in 1891 more than six dozen lemons each.

In his letter Colonel Berry says:

A few days ago the writer paid a visit to the different lemon groves of our county situated east of Visalia about twenty miles. The trees that have been planted long enough—four and five years—are loaded with perfect fruit. I never saw finer specimens of this variety of citrus fruit in my life. The skin is clean and entirely free from blemishes of all character; it is very thin indeed, but contains a large amount of essential oil, which insures the keeping quality of the fruit; the juice is perfect in flavor; in fact it is the true lemon juice, not the faintest flavor of the lime—a trouble that so many of our southern California friends don't seem to be able to overcome. The advanced specimens on the trees are matured enough for market now. The young orchard planted by the Kaweah Lemon company is in fine condition of vigorous growth, many of the trees having shoots on them of three feet, and as it is well known this tree grows more in this month and the two next, the natural supposition is they will give a growth of five feet and upwards. This company is composed of gentlemen residing here in Visalia. The Ohio Lemon company has planted out fifteen acres in trees and while all the old citrus advised Mr. Ten Broeck, the manager, not to plant trees this season—"it was too late"—the writer advised him to go ahead and the result has been that up to a few days ago 95 per cent of them had started to grow with the prospects of the other 5 per cent "getting there;" although they were planted out in August. I don't know of any greater proof of the wonderful adaptability of the location for growing lemons.

FRESNO'S FINE FRUIT.

It Will Be Exhibited at the Fair Next Week.

The Fresno County World's Fair commission decided yesterday to exhibit at the fair grounds next week the fruit put up by them for exhibition at the World's Fair next year.

The jars of fruit are stored in the cellar of the Hughes block, where there is very little light and where the temperature is cool. The preservative fluid compounded by Dr. Yancey has worked well with fruit that was not too ripe when received.

Among the recent contributions are five Strawberry cling peaches from Thomas E. Barr of Malaga. The five peaches weighed five pounds, and the largest one eighteen ounces.

J. W. Reese sent in a bunch of Thompson's seedless grapes, sixteen inches in length.

Harry Heistand has placed on exhibition in the commission's rooms a box of fancy loose raisins, artistically packed after a design of his own. In the middle appears the word "Fresno," embossed in raisins, and the border of raisins next the frame is gilt. The raisins are of a clear amber color, resembling Spanish raisins very much in this particular.

Mrs. J. J. Azhderian of Central colony has donated some fine heads of Egyptian corn.

Commissioner George A. Wilson has returned from a hunting trip to San Francisco very much improved in health.

Fifty varieties of choice grapes have been preserved in jars for the World's Fair exhibit.

The majority of the commissioners are in favor of asking a special appropriation for a mineral exhibit.

Pure Food in Congress.

A bill has been introduced into Congress requiring baking powders containing ammonia or alum to be so branded. The bill should pass; then if people dose themselves with "absolutely pure" ammonia or alum when taking their meals, they will do it knowingly, not ignorantly as they do now.

Such a law would affect nearly every baking powder in the market except Cleveland's—that does not contain a particle of ammonia or alum. Besides, every ingredient of Cleveland's baking powder is plainly printed on the label, information not given by other manufacturers.
